▶ Panel Protocol

Global Fire Equipment Ltd are the UK distributor for the range of fire products produced by Global Fire SA.

The fire panels and any ancillary equipment produced by Global Fire SA are available to any company who is maintaining a system. We do not believe in having a closed protocol, so any configuration software or manuals needed can be downloaded directly from the internet by visiting the manufacturer's website at www.globalfire.pt alternatively you can contact us direct by phone or e-mail on the numbers given below.

Any technical based queries are dealt with by our committed technical support team, we have no restrictions on any company so whether a company who purchases our equipment or a company who has had no experience on the panel we will be quite happy to speak to them.

For any company not holding a credit account with us we have a range of payment methods from card to cheque payments if requiring spares. There are no restrictions on any companies wishing to purchase or obtain information from the Global range of equipment.
